Ensuring that we pay the right amount of tax at the right time is core to our commitment to being a responsible business. The Group’s tax affairs are managed to take into account our corporate reputation, our role in the community and to aim for a high standard of governance.

UK governance in relation to taxation

The ultimate responsibility for the group’s tax policies and compliance sits with the Board of Turnstone Equityco 1 Limited. Following the sale of DD during the previous financial year, the executive team is now focussed on the {my}dentist business, providing dental services across the UK.

The Group’s Audit and Risk Committee monitors the integrity of the financial reporting systems, internal controls and risk management processes and also has responsibility for issues related to taxation.

The Chief Financial Officer (“CFO”) is responsible for tax matters at Board level and is the Group’s designated Senior Accounting Officer.

Day-to-day management of tax affairs is delegated to the Finance Director and Corporate Reporting team who report to the CFO. This team are appropriately qualified for these activities and also take advice from specialist external advisors to ensure appropriate compliance.

The CFO utilises an independent advisor to review the Group’s tax risk management and processes each year to identify areas for improvement and potential disclosure requirements.

Any new acquisitions to the Group are reviewed each year by the Corporate Reporting team and inherited tax issues are managed to completion as quickly as possible following the acquisition.

Tax risks are monitored on a regular basis and discussed with the executive team, where considered significant by the CFO.

Risk management

The Turnstone Equityco 1 Limited board is responsible for the group’s overall governance environment and has oversight of all financial policies. The board is committed to compliance with tax law and ensuring that all appropriate taxes are paid on time and the Group is in compliance with its reporting responsibilities.

The Executive team review the Group’s risk matrix including tax risks regularly during the year. The group seeks to reduce the level of tax risk arising from operations by ensuring that processes that could affect compliance with tax obligations are subject to careful and regular consideration.

The processes associated with each tax applicable to the group are assessed and documented at least on an annual basis to ensure that all key risks have been identified and mitigating controls are operating as designed. Key risks are regularly monitored to ensure that legislative or business changes do not require an adjustment to the compliance process.

Appropriate and regular training is carried out for colleagues who manage or process matters with tax implications.

Attitude to tax risk

Tax is not a principal driver in significant business and investment decisions; however the tax effects of any decision are reviewed as part of the investment process.

The Group seek to claim all available tax incentives, reliefs and exemptions in line with, and in the spirit of, tax legislation.
