helping the nation smile

About us

mydentist is Europe's largest dental corporate company. We have achieved this by focusing on delivering the best possible patient care, the highest clinical standards and a comprehensive range of treatments through a growing network of conveniently located practices across the UK. mydentist has a network of over 680 dental practices nationwide who look after the needs of over 10 million patients.

What we do

In addition to our dental services, we have a range of non-surgical cosmetic treatments and anti-wrinkle injections. So, whether you want to help rejuvenate or restore volume to your skin temporarily, our team of trained practitioners are on hand to create a treatment plan to suit your needs.

Our practitioners

Whenever you visit mydentist for a non-surgical injectable treatment you will always be treated by one of our expertly trained practitioners who have the necessary skills, experience and familiarity with your facial anatomy to deliver the most effective treatments possible.

Why does that matter?

It's alarming but the reality is there are many people providing non-surgical cosmetic treatments without adequate qualifications, training, experience and insurance.

The products we use

Whether you're looking to add volume or treat a skin concern you can rest assured that we only use the highest quality products.

All of the products we use are licenced and have undergone rigorous clinical trials to ensure that they are effective. During your consultation we will give you detailed information about the products we use to treat your concern.

Why does that matter?

Not knowing what is being injected in to your face can prove to be disastrous. Not only could you be extremely disappointed in the results but you could be putting your appearance and health at risk.

Our practices

Being treated in a clinical environment delivers added peace of mind that you'll be in the most appropriate setting to undergo your treatment, because although a minor one, it is still a medical procedure.

Our practices also provide a discreet setting for your treatment, so if you don't want anyone to know, you'll be able to keep them guessing as to why you're looking so good.

All about facial aesthetics treatments

What are facial aesthetics treatments?

As we get older, a combination of sun damage, gravity and the use of facial muscles cause our skin to naturally wrinkle and crease. We offer a range of facial aesthetic treatments that can enhance your skin's youthful appearance. We can also target particular areas of the face including lips, cheeks, forehead, and the skin around the eyes.

We will discuss all possible treatments with you in your pre-treatment consultation, so that we can find the best suitable treatment for you.

What makes us great at what we do

At mydentist we believe in providing you with open and honest advice, not only to ensure you achieve the best results from your treatment but to ensure you are fully equipped with all the relevant information to make an informed decision.

Our team of facial aesthetic practitioners are just a consultation away from helping you to keep tell-tale signs of ageing or problem skin at bay.

On your first visit you will attend an in-depth consultation with one of our expertly trained practitioners who will talk to you about your concerns and discuss the different options that are available to you.

Choosing to undergo your treatment at mydentist comes with a range of added benefits you won't get anywhere else.

Our practitioners treat thousands of patients every year. Their expert knowledge of facial anatomy and their familiarity of carrying out injection procedures means that they are better equipped to help you achieve fantastic and consistent treatment outcomes.

Being treated at mydentist also means you'll have the added assurance that you'll be in a pair of trusted and familiar hands that are equipped to deliver effective treatments.
